The Phenomenon of "Deadly Heat" in Modern Context

Climate Change and Increasing Heatwaves

The term "deadly heat" has taken on heightened significance amid escalating global temperatures. According to reports from the Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change (IPCC), the frequency and intensity of heatwaves have increased markedly over recent decades. These events have led to numerous fatalities, health crises, and socioeconomic disruptions worldwide.

- The Pacific Northwest heatwave of 2021 resulted in over 600 fatalities.
- The World Health Organization estimates that between 2030 and 2050, climate change will cause an additional 38,000 heat-related deaths annually.

Crime and Violence in Heatwaves

Research indicates a correlation between high temperatures and increased rates of violence and crime. Studies published in journals like "Science" and "Nature Climate Change" suggest that extreme heat exacerbates aggression, reduces self-control, and destabilizes social order.

Key observations include:

- Elevated assaults, homicides, and domestic violence during heatwaves.
- Increased instances of looting and civil unrest during prolonged heat spells.
